

Sunday 14th June, 2009

9am

Everyone knows we're in the middle of a global financial crisis, but no one seems to know how long it will last, or what the next horror story will be. This short series of messages will be less about financial and market analysis (which is good, because they are coming from Dave...), and more about these two questions: What is God saying to us in a time like this? (and) Are we listening? We read about numerous meltdowns in the Bible, and today we'll be looking at the one mentioned in 1 Kings 16:29-34.

Pastor: Dave Groenenboom

5pm

Life is meaningless. The things we do are useless - a waste of time. Work, education, travel. Friends, fun, money. None of these things will prevent you from dying and none can be taken with you when you go. All of it - a waste of time. So what's the point of living? It's simple: To fear God and keep his commandments (Ecclesiastes 12:13). This is the whole point of living. Fear God. What does it mean to fear God? Revere him. Honour him. Worship him. Glorify him. And know him through the love he showed us on the cross. Because all of that you can take with you from this life to the next.

Reading: Ecclesiastes.

ALL THINGS SPORT

RCRC has a passion for the community. A number of years ago some members of our Church set up some sporting teams to compete in local competitions. The intention was to have a mixture of people from RCRC and some that aren't as a real context for mission. If you would like to be involved in any RCRC sport sides such as golf or indoor cricket or would like to expand the ministry, email josh.hemelaar@gelita.com
